John Pack, Art Collector Extraordinaire:

The 2019 Adel Verpflichtet PBEM tournament is over! Congratulations to Allan Jiang, our illustrious champion!

Allan Jiang began the final by wishing everyone good luck. Allan's good luck followed him across the finish line -- where he won by a single space over both the second and third places, Hochboim Haim and Sharee Pack. Sharee sprinted to the second corner before anyone else reached the first. However, her set was broken thereafter to slow her movement to crawl. She finished one space short and with a barely functional 3-card set. Hochboim collected an enormous set and used detectives to make up the distance with a few key exhibits at the end to bring him within one space. He finished with a tournament-high 13 cards -- but only 7 were displayable. Steve Cameron started out fast, got robbed even faster, and sputtered at an unprofitable auction spree to finish in fifth. Jacob Griffith collected cards but was unable to parley detectives into enough spaces to join the fray. He finished with the best set (8 cards and the oldest card in the game, 1748) but still came in fourth. John Pack rounded out the top six as the top semi-finalist who didn't advance. Congratulations to Allan! Allan squeaked into the final with a high second place finish and was the top qualifier in the preliminaries. Good luck to all in the next tournament! John, the next tournament begins on April Fools' Day! I hope to see you in action then.

John

P.S. The final finished around Thanksgiving -- and this report is late because holidays and repairing a house for rent had me distracted. The AREA and BPA reports are done today too.
